

MINISTER IN THE WELL WITH HORSE

Long Island Pastor Went Down to Rescue Animal Which Had Fallen In and Was Almost Drowned by It.

NEIGHBORS ARRIVED JUST IN TIME TO SAVE HIM.

Beast, Which Had Been Two Days in Water Hole, Kicked Furiously When Ropes Were Put About Him.

SAYVILLE, L. I., Aug. 30.—Rev. Daniel Hallock, of Lake Grove, was nearly drowned in a cistern at his home here while trying to rescue his horse which had fallen into the cistern in the place two days ago. The minister lowered himself into the cistern by means of a rope and found the horse standing body deep in the water. The sudden appearance of the clergyman frightened the animal, and he kicked about the cistern, nearly drowning the pastor. Neighbors who were called rescued man and beast. The horse disappeared two nights ago, and Rev. Hallock was unable to get any trace of him. He advertised in the local papers, but got no response. Last night as he was passing the cistern he heard what sounded to him like the neighing of a horse. He could not locate the sound and concluded he was mistaken. He heard it again, however, and it appearing to come from the cistern he peered down while he called out the horse's name. The animal, knowing his master's voice, neighed again, and the minister, hurrying to his house, got a rope to rescue the horse. Several of the neighbors were summoned, but before their arrival the minister had rigged up the rope and lowered himself into the well. The neighbors arrived just in time to save him from the horse, which was kicking about in a furious manner. Rev. Mr. Hallock was little the worse for his experience when taken out, and the horse was found sound after his two days' stay in the cistern.

POLICEMAN HURT BY CAR.

John W. Mann Loses All the Fingers of One Hand. While alighting from a northbound Ninth avenue car at Forty-second street to-day, John W. Mann, a policeman attached to the Elizabeth street station, was thrown to the ground, and the wheels of an empty car which the driver was towing out off all the fingers of his left hand. Mann was also thrown violently against an elevated railroad pillar, causing a scalp wound.

THREAT TO PASTOR MADE IN LETTERS

Police Capt. Hogan and three detectives of the Eighty-first Precinct, on Staten Island, are investigating the origin of two threatening letters that have been recently received by Rev. Dr. Charles Schwelkert, pastor of the First Baptist Church, on Franklin avenue, New Brighton. The two letters threaten to kill the pastor, blow up the church and also take the life of the pastor's wife and child unless a certain sum of money is left at a spot designated. The pastor received the first letter on Saturday afternoon. It was mailed from New York and written in ink on wax paper, but was unsigned. The letter was a demand that the pastor forward $500 at once, otherwise the church would be burned down and the pastor killed on sight. Had Rev. Mr. Schwelkert wished to comply with the request he would have been unable to do so, as there was an address or signature to the letter to tell him to whom and where to forward the money. He treated the matter lightly, however, and said nothing to the police about it. He received another written threat last night, however, signed "Luis Waring." This letter was also written in ink and evidently in the same handwriting. It was also mailed in New York. This writer demanded that $500 be left in a lot on Crescent avenue, which is just around a corner from the church. It was also stated that failure to immediately comply would result in the church being blown up and the murder of the pastor, his wife and child. Rev. Mr. Schwelkert took the letter to the police station, and Capt. Hogan took up the case. It is believed the letter originated from a gang that used a lot near the church to blow up the church, and against whom the pastor made a complaint to the police, thereby stopping the blowing. Some blow-upers were arrested at the time, but were allowed to go with a reprimand. About ten days after the arrest there was a small fire in the church, and it was believed to be the work of the gang. Capt. Hogan says he believes he will succeed in catching the writer of the two letters and does not believe he will have to leave Staten Island to do it.

BLACK HAND HAS A HEBREW BRANCH

If a blackmailing letter received to-day by David Miller, a well-to-do picture frame manufacturer, of No. 364 Broadway, Williamsburg, can be relied upon as evidence, there is a Hebrew branch of the terrible Black Hand Society. This letter was written entirely in Hebrew script and signed with the black hand. It read: "You should put away $250 in an envelope and put it behind the windows. If you don't do it before Tuesday night we will kidnap one of your children and murder it. We advise you to do it and remain." Then followed a semblance of a black hand, minus one finger. Though Mr. Miller was not inclined to take the letter seriously, his wife was greatly alarmed, and took it to Capt. Woodman, of the Clymer street station. The captain assigned two detectives to watch the Miller home to-day.

To-Morrow's Extraordinary Demonstration The Sale of THE ODDS AND ENDS

Men's Coats and Vests Broken from Suits. YOUR CHOICE During the great sales, even with the best system, SUITS BECOME BROKEN. Many of the Trousers are not right as to size or "get astray." Hence these Coats and Vests of fine Worsteds and Cassimeres—all colorings—all sizes—all styles—at the one price: "THREE FIFTY."

3.50 MEN'S TROUSERS The same argument as to Coats and Vests (Broken from Suits) above pertains to many of these Trousers. In addition hundreds of pairs collected from all over the stocks. Fine Worsteds, neat Cassimeres, Blacks, Blues, etc., etc. ALL SIZES. Wonderful investments at "ONE FIFTY."

1.50 MEN'S RAIN COATS Long, loose Coats, dark ("Water Repellent" Brand.) Oxford gray. It seems almost unbusinesslike to quote them here. But it's an extinct brand, and, therefore, a detriment on the floor. Hence: "THREE FIFTY."

2.00 MEN'S ODD COATS Dark Coats and Light Coats, all kinds of cloths. It's a pity to see these "Orphan" Coats, but the clearance order is pitiless—a few score of HOUSE COATS and SMOKING JACKETS are with them—at "TWO DOLLARS."

10c MEN'S STRAW HATS. 132 "Yeddos," the featherweight Japanese straw, good leathers, sateen tips—only sizes 6 1/2 to 7. And the balance of our new straws on sale since Aug. 19—at "TWENTY-FIVE" and "SEVENTY-FIVE."

2.00 To facilitate selection we have arranged the "Odds and Ends" in separate sections designated by Display Cards with Red Lettering, so that there will be no delay to the purchaser. The sales forces have been strongly augmented.
